Burleigh's Gin

This Leicestershire gin was born in June 2014, the culmination of Phil Burley's ambition to establish a craft distillery that captured the spirit of his home county. With guiding expertise from Master Distiller Jamie Baxter, the pair set up operations at Bawdon Lodge Farm in the village of Nanpantan.

This picturesque location on the edge of Burleigh Wood provided not just a fitting name for the duo's locally rooted brand but also a wealth of botanical inspiration. Silver birch, dandelion, burdock, elderberry and iris all contribute their influence to this gin with a distinctive Leicestershire accent.

Burleigh's London Dry Gin is available in three different expressions: Signature, Export Strength and Distiller's Cut. At 40% ABV, the Signature captures the essence of this brand, showing off its 11 botanicals in a crisp, vibrant and pine-scented smooth style that is ideally suited to a refreshing G&T.

Showcasing the same ratio of botanicals at a more robust 47% ABV, Burleigh's Export Strength has an aromatic profile that really shines in a Martini or Negroni. Finally, at the same strength but with a more floral, sweeter balance of ingredients, the Distiller's Cut shows off Jamie's skilled craftsmanship and works beautifully in his own cocktail of choice, the Martinez.
