

Founded by Chris and his wife Nicola in 2012, Devon based Norcotts Cider use apples exclusively from the west country – the home of traditional cider. Each of the five varieties is made to a unique recipe and has a real authentic fruit character.

Norcotts is lighter and more refreshing than other fruit ciders and is intended for year round cider sales, with elderflower being a wonderful summer drink and cranberry for a more winter flavour.

We have tested a large number of British fruit flavoured ciders to select one that we could really identify one that stood out in the this growing category. Norcotts was a clear winner in terms of quality, branding and price.

Capacity has increased substantially and Norcotts is now distributed in supermarkets and specialist retailers throughout Britain. Norcotts branding is bright and British and reflects the vibrancy of this young cider brand.
